

PROJECT MANAGEMENT PROFESSIONAL Certification Preparation

Take control as you prepare for writing the Project Management Professional (PMP) Certification Exam Your Schedule – Your Priorities

Often managers belong to organizations that have the personnel and experience required to successfully pass the Project Management Institutes PMP certification exam yet are missing that last piece: an accurate roadmap on those items to concentrate on, including a study plan to make best use of the limited time managers have available for exam preparation.

You want to get your PMP certification, but you don't have time to take a 5-day in-class workshop to prepare to write the exam right now. What to do?

How about using online and personal support that has proven effective for preparing people to successfully write the exam?

BrenDaniel Productions has created such a system. You define the program, we provide the support

Verifiable Results

This program has two levels of support, providing independent verification to measure your development success:

1. Each of the 14 MP3 modules has a 20-question test set, providing an ongoing measure of your exam readiness
2. The facilitator (Dan) provides direct feedback and guidance on areas that you are having challenges.

Our Support Includes

1. Support in completing your PMP application, including a pre-recorded webinar and an excel tool for calculating your hours.
2. Fourteen MP3 recordings covering the knowledge areas of the PMBOK – Listen according to your schedule and priorities.
3. The complete BrenDaniel in-class PMP workbook, in soft copy that you can access and complete on your own time
4. Fourteen question and answer sets that walk you through the PMBOK to gauge your progress
5. Great websites to get quality (and free) questions
6. Feedback from recent exam takers
